Musical version of a poem by Josef Weinheber for vocal and piano which was originally written for a baritone.

There is a version which is in a higher tone and which is more pleasing for singing by a soprano. The song was often performed on "Jugend musiziert" (musical competition for children and adolescents in Germany on a regional, federal, and national level) but requires a certain level of vocal maturity/experience.

Caution: For some reason up to now, the last eighth during the held over F in the piano chord which is at the end of the first line does not display a sharp (#), during which the voice goes over to flat. Please correct this during downloading!
