Evanescence

By Orpheus. Eurydike. Hermes. (Rainer Maria Rilke)

Luca Vago

Fluttuante, impalpabile ♩ = 60

The musical score is for a piece titled "Evanescence" by Luca Vago, based on the poem "By Orpheus. Eurydike. Hermes." by Rainer Maria Rilke. The tempo is marked "Fluttuante, impalpabile" with a quarter note equal to 60 beats per minute. The score is arranged for Soprano, Frame drum, Harp, and Piano.

Soprano: The vocal line begins with the lyrics "Sie war schon nicht mehr die se blon - - de Frau,". The notes are mostly eighth and sixteenth notes, with some triplets. Dynamics include pp (pianissimo), p (piano), and pp (pianissimo). Performance instructions include "sottovoce, sempre legato" and "N vibr".

Frame drum: The frame drum part consists of a simple rhythmic pattern of eighth notes, mostly on the lower staff.

Harp: The harp part features "Tremolo eolico" (wind tremolo) and "L V" (left hand) markings. It includes triplets and sixteenth notes. Dynamics range from ppp (pianississimo) to p (piano). A large orange oval with the word "musicalion" and "click for more" is overlaid on the harp part.

Piano: The piano part includes "Flusso eolico" (wind flow) and "Tremolo eolico" markings. It features triplets and sixteenth notes. Dynamics range from pp (pianissimo) to mp (mezzo-piano). A large orange oval with the word "musicalion" and "click for more" is overlaid on the piano part.

Lyrics: The lyrics are in German and are written below the vocal line. They are: "Sie war schon nicht mehr die se blon - - de Frau," and "die in des Dich - - ters Lie - - dem man - chmal an - klang".

The image displays a musical score for the song "Die Glocken von Aachen" by Franz Schubert. The score is arranged in two systems, each with a vocal line (Soprano, Fr. dr.) and a piano accompaniment (Hp.).

System 1 (Measures 1-15):

- Vocal Line: The lyrics are "nicht mehr des breiten Bettes Duft und Ei-land". The melody features a mix of eighth and sixteenth notes with various ornaments like triplets and slurs.
- Piano Line: The piano part includes a "Tremolo eolico" section in the right hand and a more melodic line in the left hand. Dynamics range from pp (pianissimo) to mp (mezzo-piano).

System 2 (Measures 16-24):

- Vocal Line: The lyrics continue with "und ... tum nicht". The melody includes a triplet and a final note with a fermata.
- Piano Line: The piano part continues with a "Tremolo eolico" section and a "Fl. col." (flauto colorato) section. Dynamics include mf (mezzo-forte) and sfz (sforzando).

Central Watermark: A large, stylized orange oval contains the word "musicalion" in a bold, sans-serif font, with the text "click for more" underneath it.

The formal structure of Evanescence, based on the climatic section of Rilke's Orpheus. Eurydike. Hermes. is determined by the text.

The images bound to the past of Eurydike of the beginning are constantly accompanied by the tremolo molto of the harp in an atmosphere of suspension and nostalgia.

An interlude of the solo Harp introduces the central section of the composition that has a more fragmentary texture: "quasi recitativo".

A progressive slowing of the movement takes us to the core of the composition, on the word Sie war schon Wurzel, a pedal of D in the harp prepares the entrance on the drum on the given rhythmic pattern, that is little by little accelerated in a quasi canone with the percussive sounds of the harp.

The dramatic epilogue of the story is reached in an increasing of tension in the following Agitato.

In the end everything vanishes among the harmonics sounds and the hisses of the harp and the broken singing of the soprano in her extreme high range.
