This musical score is written for a string ensemble, likely violins and violas, in a key with two flats (B-flat and E-flat). The score is divided into several systems. The first system includes a '8va' marking and a 'p' (piano) dynamic. The second system features a '3 Tutti' marking and a 'mp' (mezzo-forte) dynamic. The third system has a 'p' dynamic and a 'sine Sord.' (without sordina) marking. The fourth system is marked '190 Animé' and begins with a '3' (triple) and a 'f' (forte) dynamic. The fifth system is marked '200' and 'mf' (mezzo-forte). The sixth system is marked '210' and 'mf'. The seventh system is marked '220' and 'p' (piano). The eighth system is marked '230' and 'Tutti'. The score includes various musical notations such as slurs, ties, and dynamic markings.
