This Catholic Christmas carol is widespread in the German-speaking world with several, mostly similar melodies.

The current melody is often attributed to Christoph Bernhard Verspoell. The priest from Münster (1743 - 1818) probably included it in his "Münsterisches Gesangbuch" (1810) after an older model.

The arrangement consists of two stanzas: stanza 1 includes trumpet 3, horn, trombone and tuba; in the second stanza, two additional trumpets are added as upper voices to the same movement.

The trumpet parts are available as B-flat and C-flat parts.
