Nun komm, der Heiden Heiland

1

EG 4

Lukas Osiander (1534-1604)

First variation of the hymn tune. It consists of two systems of music. Each system has a treble and bass staff joined by a brace. The key signature is one sharp (F#) and the time signature is common time (C). The first system contains four measures, and the second system contains four measures, ending with a double bar line. The music is written in a simple, homophonic style with block chords and moving lines in both hands.

2

Johann Crüger (1598 - 1662)

Second variation of the hymn tune. It consists of two systems of music. Each system has a treble and bass staff joined by a brace. The key signature is one sharp (F#) and the time signature is 4/4. The first system contains four measures, and the second system contains four measures, ending with a double bar line. The music is more complex than the first variation, featuring more active bass lines and some chromaticism. A large, semi-transparent orange oval with the word "musicalion" and the text "click for more" is overlaid on the center of the page.

3

J. S. Bach (1685-1750)

Third variation of the hymn tune. It consists of two systems of music. Each system has a treble and bass staff joined by a brace. The key signature is one sharp (F#) and the time signature is common time (C). The first system contains four measures, and the second system contains four measures, ending with a double bar line. The music is highly ornate and complex, featuring many sixteenth and thirty-second notes, particularly in the bass line, and various figured bass patterns.
